

‘Ōhi‘a Seed Conservation Workshop

Hilo
Hawai‘i Island

This workshop is part of a free series in the Rapid ‘Ōhi‘a Death Seed Banking Initiative, which aims to expand capacity for collection and banking of ‘Ōhi‘a seeds across all islands in response to the ROD crisis. It is free and open to anyone who wants to learn how to properly collect, handle, and process ‘Ōhi‘a seeds, without doing harm to trees or forests, using methods that protect seed viability and ensure conservation value for future restoration.

Hilo Workshop

Friday, February 15, 2019
9am–12pm or 1:30–4:30pm
Institute for Pacific Islands Forestry,
Large Conference Room
60 Nowelo St, Hilo, Hawai‘i Island

To learn more about the ROD Seed Banking Initiative, workshop details, and registration: www.ohialove.com

Questions: Marian Chau at (808) 988-0469 or mmchau@hawaii.edu

Learn more about Rapid ‘Ōhi‘a Death: www.rapidohiadeath.org

Sponsor: HAWAII TOURISM
AUTHORITY

